

CHAPTER SIX – JOHN LEGRAND MCGEE

Generation No. 3

1. JOHN LEGRAND³ MCGEE (JOHN SIMPSON², JOHN¹) was born December 03, 1849 in the state of Kentucky, and died August 17, 1929 at his home near Legrande, Hart County, Kentucky. He married SARAH LOUISE "SALLIE" CURLE abt. 1882, daughter of D. R. CURLE and SUSAN W.? She was born December 12, 1864 in the state of Kentucky, and died March 29, 1909 in Hart County, Kentucky.

Notes for JOHN LEGRAND MCGEE:

John Legrand McGee was named in part for his uncle, Aurelius Legrand Hawkins, of Mercer County, Kentucky.

John L. McGee, at age 15, was the oldest of the six children who returned to Kentucky from Texas after the Civil War. Around 1868, while Rev. McGee was assigned to the Hodgenville, Kentucky Circuit, John L. was enrolled in the Kentucky Military Institute, located about six miles south of Frankfort, Kentucky. Founded in 1847, KMI was one of the oldest military prep schools in the U.S., and many parents sent their sons there. The McGee family eventually settled in Hart County around 1872, and in 1876, Rev. McGee purchased a farm there that had once belonged to William Walton. John L. McGee lived with his parents, working on the family farm until his marriage to a local Hart County girl, Sallie Curle about 1882. He was 32 years old, and she was 18 when they married.

(Note: The Hart County courthouse burned in 1928, destroying county records accumulated during the previous one hundred years. As a result, much of the public information normally available, such as the date for John L. McGee's marriage, was lost.)

The 1900 census for Hart County, Kentucky lists John L. McGee, age 48, head of the household and a farmer, his wife, Sallie, age 35, a daughter, Mimi G., age 17, a son, Clarence G., age 15, and a daughter, Ruby D., age 12. The couple had been married for approximately 18 years and all three of their children were still living.

(Note: There is a discrepancy between the birth dates listed in the 1900 census report and the birth dates listed on their grave markers. The 1900 census lists John L. McGee's birth as Dec. 1851 as opposed to Dec. 3, 1849 on his headstone. Sallie's birth is listed in the 1900 census as August 1864, but her headstone states Dec. 12, 1864. For this report the author has used the dates given on their headstones.)

John Legrand McGee's home place in Hart County was located within one-half mile of the small village that was named for him, Legrande, Kentucky.

“Approximately six miles east of Horse Cave in Hart County is the hamlet of Legrande, Kentucky which is believed to have been named for Legrand McGee, a local farmer. The post office of Legrand, which is now extinct, was in operation from 1904 to 1908. When the local school (now closed) was established there, the name of both the school and the community was spelled Legrande with an "e" added to the end.” (From the book, "Kentucky Place Names," by Robert M. Rennick)

The 1910 census for District No. 1, Hardyville, Hart County, Kentucky lists John L. McGee, age 55, a widower; a son, Clarence L., age 25, a farmer; and a daughter, Marie C., age 7.

Two weeks after the death of his wife, Sallie, on March 29, 1909, John L. McGee received the following letter from his brother-in-law, Emmet F. Curle, a Baptist minister who lived in Arkansas at the time. One cannot help but wonder about the reasons for the rift that had developed within the family prior to this letter.

Osceola, Ark.
April 13, 1909

Mr. John McGee
Horse Cave, Ky.

Dear Brother:

You will likely be surprised to get a letter from me, but Ella and I talked so much about old times and all of you that I can not resist writing you. I know that conditions arose that caused us to drift apart, and that we have allowed the once very tender relations that existed to be disturbed, but not-with-standing all, there has never been, nor shall be, a time that I shall not hold sacred the memory of the years of loyal friendship we enjoyed. Now that the lips of her that we both loved are silent, I am determined to do what I often thought of doing - write you a letter and assure you that there is not one sentiment in my heart that is not for your best interest for two worlds.

I hope that you are all well God may give you the patient resignation that shall sustain you in this hour of grief, loneliness and sorrow. Death is not the worst thing that can come to one. It was such a joy to hear of the triumph of her death. I know you feel lonely now, and wish that the sun may soon shine as bright as in the years when you and her were walking side by side. We can not understand the dispensations of God's providence that darken our way now, "but all things work together for good to them that love Him." May he bless the little Baby Girl that is left to a fathers care; and all the children.

I expect to go to the Southern Baptist Convention, at Louisville, about the 10th of May, and think I shall stop off and see you all, and be there a day or two. This is my intention, if nothing occurs to prevent.

Ella stayed with us but a few days, Started home Sunday morning. We are all well. God bless you all.

Sincerely, E. F. Curle
