

PART THREE

BENJAMIN HAWKINS OF MERCER COUNTY, KENTUCKY

Benjamin Hawkins, the grandfather of Ann Reminta Hawkins, was born in Virginia in 1738, the son of Benjamin Hawkins and Sarah Willis. He married Ann Bourne, the daughter of Andrew Bourne, in 1764 in Fauquier County, Virginia. In 1789, Benjamin Hawkins together with his brother, James Hawkins, departed Virginia and came to Kentucky after they sold their Orange County, Virginia property to the husband of the widow of their brother, Captain Moses Hawkins (killed at Germantown, Pennsylvania in 1777). Thomas Coleman, who bought the land in Orange County, had married Capt. Hawkins' widow, Susan (Strother) Hawkins in 1783. Later, Moses Hawkins' widow moved with her second husband from Virginia to Woodford County, Kentucky and then to Franklin County, and there are numerous descendants of Moses Hawkins living today in that area. Benjamin and James Hawkins witnessed the will of Moses Hawkins.

In 1790, Benjamin and James Hawkins both appeared in Fayette County, but sometime before 1800, James moved to Jessamine County while Benjamin settled in Mercer County. Benjamin Hawkins died in Mercer County about 1806, and although he left no will, there is an inventory of his personal estate recorded in May 1807 on file at the Mercer County courthouse in Harrodsburg, Kentucky. The Hawkins farm was situated on the waters of the Kentucky River in the northeastern corner of the county very near the Anderson County line. The village of Salvisa was located a few miles away, named after the nearby Salt and Levisa rivers. (The name of the Levisa River was later changed to the Kentucky River.)

After Benjamin Hawkins' death, his oldest son, Andrew, purchased the property from his siblings in 1811, but it was Andrew's brother, Francis Hawkins, who eventually bought the farm and lived there. He and his wife, Permelia, reared all ten of their children including Ann Hawkins, who became the wife of John S. McGee. Francis Hawkins died on June 14, 1869, and one of his sons, "A. L." Hawkins, bought out his brothers' interests and continued to reside on the farm raising another generation of the Hawkins family on the home place.

The old home place was eventually sold to Robert Stratton in the 1920's, and his descendants still own the farm today. The original Hawkins farmhouse is still standing, although no longer used as a dwelling. According to one of the present owners, the house was originally built as a two-story log structure in the shape of a "T," but later in its history, the logs were covered with clapboard siding and the rear extension was torn down.. There are two stone chimneys, one at each end of the house, and the family cemetery is situated on a little knoll approximately 200 yards away. The cemetery is outlined by a dry-stack stone wall, now partially collapsed, and contains several graves, only three of which are marked with inscribed headstones. The marked graves are those of Francis Hawkins, his wife, Permelia, and their son, William. It is believed that both Benjamin Hawkins and his wife, Nancy Ann Bourne, are buried there. The house and cemetery are located on Short Road just a few miles north of Salvisa.

Although the following report covers eight generations of the Hawkins family, the primary focus is on Ann Hawkins' grandfather, Benjamin Hawkins, and his direct line of descendants. He came from Virginia and settled in Mercer County, Kentucky shortly before 1800, and his name is listed below as No. 4 in Generation No. 3.

Notes for BENJAMIN HAWKINS:

The following excerpt was taken from a personal letter dated December 26, 1968 and written by David Hawkins of Shreveport, La. addressed to Wyatt Shelly of Lawrenceburg, Ky. and on file at the Anderson Co., Ky. public library.

"...a descendant of the Benjamin Hawkins who was a brother to my ancestor (Capt.) James. Benjamin came to Ky. with James in 1789 after the two sold out their Orange County, Va. property to the husband of the widow of Captain Moses Hawkins (killed at Germantown in 1777). Thomas Coleman bought the land in Orange and had married Moses' widow Susanna (Strother) Hawkins in 1783. From other sources (undocumented) I am informed that Benjamin was born in 1738. He married Ann Bourne (dau. of Andrew Bourne, d. 1788) in Fauquier County, Va. in 1764. He was in the 1790 census of Fayette with James and didn't show up in Jessamine (where James then lived) in 1800. Recently I have discovered that he died in Mercer in 1807. There is an inventory there in the May court of that year and his children are listed as Sarah (married Reuben Boston in Orange 1783) and other daughters whose names I don't have together with sons Andrew, Francis, Benjamin, Abraham, and John. You will find these in the Mercer censuses except for Andrew who shows in 1830, 1840 and 1850 censuses for Anderson. He was 78 in 1850.

"The disappointment, if such it is, is that Benjamin, so far as I know, wasn't in the Revolution. He was around 40 during the war.

"My reason for the digression about Capt. Moses Hawkins early in this letter is that I believe that he was related to Capt. James and Benjamin. James and Benjamin witnessed his will, and, as noted above, my ancestor very definitely sold land to his widow's husband. Moses' widow moved with her second husband to Woodford County and the family was later in Franklin. There are doubtless numerous descendants in that area. The reason that I am going to such length is that Moses Hawkins name is well known in genealogical circles. The DAR book of Patriots lists him as born in Culpeper County, Va. 1748. Very likely his ancestry has been run down by descendants - and it may well be the key to mine.

"The Bourne papers in the Kentucky Historical Society in Frankfort are supposed to contain a list of names of Hawkins who were related to Capt. Moses' son, William Strother Hawkins, who was born around 1771-2. He made the list in his lifetime and it passed through various hands before ending, I am told, in the records at Frankfort. I have written the Society but so far haven't received an answer as to the availability of "the list." It dealt only with Hawkins kin to William S. Hawkins who were then living in Kentucky - before 1858, the time of his death."

Inventory of the personal property of Benjamin Hawkins as reported by the commissioners appointed by the Mercer County, Kentucky court, May session, 1807. Benjamin's son, Andrew Hawkins, was Administrator.

Three beds and furniture, one chest, one table, one desk, one cupboard, one table and table furniture, eight chairs, smoothing iron and shovel, one handsaw, three foils, two chisels, shears, old books, two plows, two adzes, crosscut saw, whipsaw, log chain, double trees, one wagon and gear, one old sorrel mare, one old gray horse, sorrel mare and colt, sorrel horse, bay horse, twenty three hogs, eleven more hogs, one spotted cow and yearling, two steer yearlings, two heiffers, one black cow and calf, one white-faced red cow and calf, one red white Barker cow and calf, one yearling heiffer, twenty eight sheep, one two year old bay filly, one two year old sorrel horse, large kettle, one small kettle and pot, one bake oven, pot hooks, one pot rack, pails, piggins and sifter, one loom, one grindstone, and saddle bags.

Total value was appraised at 190 Pounds, 10 Shillings, and 6 Pence.

Notes for FRANCIS "FRANK" HAWKINS:

Francis "Frank" Hawkins was only about 4 years old when his parents moved to Kentucky from Virginia. In 1789, his father, Benjamin Hawkins, along with his uncle, James Hawkins, left Orange County, Virginia with their respective families and traveled by wagon down the Wilderness Road to the Cumberland Gap where they crossed over into Kentucky. James settled in Jessamine County and Benjamin made his home in Mercer, and was probably there before 1800. Benjamin Hawkins died in Mercer about 1806, and although he left no will, there is an inventory of his personal estate recorded in May 1807 and on file at the Mercer County courthouse. The location of the Benjamin Hawkins homestead in Mercer County is believed to be the same farm where his son, Frank Hawkins, lived for most of his life. After Benjamin's death, the farm was first purchased by the oldest son, Andrew Hawkins, in 1811.

The within indenture deed of release was this day before me in my office proven to be the act and deed of Abraham Hawkins, Reuben Boston, William Barnes, Samuel McCoun for Elizabeth Barnes, John Hawkins, Pressley White, Francis Hawkins, Andrew Hawkins for Benjamin Hawkins, Andrew Hawkins and Ann Hawkins parties thereto by the oaths of Robert Johnston and Whitefield White whereupon I have recorded the same in my office.

Attest: Tho. Allin, C.C.

The names of Francis Hawkins and his brothers, Andrew, Abraham, and John, are all listed together in the 1810 Mercer census, which suggests that they were residing near to each other at the time the census was enumerated. The Mercer census of 1820 lists the brothers, Francis, Andrew, Abraham, and Benjamin Hawkins, but not John, who by then may have moved to neighboring Anderson County. Benjamin Hawkins died in 1824 at the age of 31 years old, and Andrew Hawkins moved to Anderson County sometime between 1820 and 1830 because he appeared there in the 1830, 1840 and 1850 censuses. Andrew Hawkins was 78 years old in 1850. When Andrew relocated to Anderson County with his family, it is believed that Francis Hawkins stayed in Mercer and lived on the original Hawkins homestead with his mother as part of his household. The 1830 Mercer census shows a female between the ages of 80 and 90 years old living in the household of Francis Hawkins, and it's likely that this female was his mother, Ann. Ann (Bourne) Hawkins died in 1832 and almost certainly was buried alongside her husband in the old Hawkins family cemetery located on the family farm about 300 yards from the home.

In 1837, Abraham Hawkins died in Mercer County at the age of 61 years old, and his will is on file at the Mercer County court house (Will Book 9, p. 451). Francis Hawkins acted as witness to his brother's will. In

She married (1) WILLIAM S. HITER May 15, 1838 in Anderson County, Kentucky. He was born in Woodford County, Kentucky, and died bef. 1850. She married (2) JOHN A. CLARK 1852 in Shelby County, Kentucky. He was born May 08, 1814 in Shelby County, Kentucky, and died April 26, 1869 in Parke County, Indiana.

Notes for AMERIAL O. HAWKINS:

On May 15, 1838, when Amerial Hawkins at the age of twenty two years old, married William Hiter in Anderson County, Kentucky, and they would have two daughters together. But by 1850, Amerial Hiter was a widow, and she and her two girls had moved back to Mercer County where she was once again living on the Hawkins home place in the home of her father, Frank Hawkins.

The 1850 census for District No. 1, Mercer County, Kentucky lists Frank Hawkins, age 65, head of the household and a farmer, his son, Van Buren, age 19, a son, Benja, age 18, a son, Lewis, age 15, a daughter, Nancy, age 13, and a son, William, age 10. Also living in the household was Amilia Hitter, age 34, her daughter, Leona, age 12, and her daughter, Ann, age 9. (Note: Amerial was misspelled as Amilia, and Leona should have been Leonora. Ann was correct)

In 1852, Amerial married for the second time to John A. Clarke, a farmer and widower from Shelby County, Kentucky, who had several children of his own. Sometime around 1855/56, the Clarke family left Kentucky and moved to the state of Texas.

The 1860 census for Beat No. 6, Lynchburg, Harris County, Texas lists Jno A. Clarke, age 46, head of the household and a farmer, his wife, A. O., age 44, a son, Jno C., age 19, a daughter, H., age 13, a son, Thomas, age 5, and a son, D., age 3.

(Note: The two oldest children listed here were from John Clarke's first marriage to Julianna Whitlege, who died in 1847. Amerial also had two children from her first marriage, Leonora Hiter and Ann Mary Hiter. When the Clarke family decided to relocate to Texas, her youngest daughter, Ann Mary, went to live with her aunt, Florella (Hawkins) Dawkins, in Jackson County, Virginia. Leonora, meanwhile, moved to Texas with her mother and step-father, where she met and married Perry Lanham, a widower with a son from his previous marriage. The Lanham family is found in the 1860 census for Houston, Harris County, Texas.)

John and Amerial Clarke left the state of Texas and moved to Parke County, Indiana sometime after the 1860 census and before John's death in 1869. The fact that they decided to settle in Parke County, Indiana rather than returning to Kentucky must have been due, in part, to family connections, because several of Amerial's cousins resided in Parke County, having moved there from Kentucky around 1838. After the death of Abraham Hawkins in 1837, at least three of his sons, Pleasant Hawkins, Joseph Hawkins and William Hawkins, left Mercer County and relocated to Florida Township, Parke County, Indiana.

When her second husband died at age 55 in 1869, Amerial Clarke would have been about 53 years old and still had two young boys to raise. The 1870 census for Florida Township, Parke County, Indiana lists Amerial O. Clark, age 54, keeping house and head of the household, a son, Thomas C., age 14, and a son, David H., age 12.

Amerial Clarke was approximately 62 years old when she died on July 8, 1878 in Parke County, Indiana. At the time of her death her two sons were ages 24 and 21, and both were still single.

Obituary of Lewis Henry Hawkins

MR. L. H. HAWKINS, who has been a resident of the Leesville section for many years, died on the morning of 21st inst., and his remains were interred in the Leesville cemetery on the following morning with Masonic honors. He was quite aged and leaves a wife and a number of friends to mourn his death.

MR. L. H. HAWKINS died at his home two miles north of town last Tuesday and was buried here Wednesday. Mr. Hawkins came to Texas from Kentucky in 1869 and settled in Guadalupe county and moved to Gonzales county in 1872. He was a Confederate soldier and a member of the Methodist church and a Mason.

The following resolution was furnished to the Gonzales Inquirer, Gonzales, Texas, Thursday, May 14, 1903:

We, your committee, appointed to draw up suitable resolutions on the death of our late brother, L. H. Hawkins, and pay a just tribute to his memory, beg leave to submit the following:

Brother Hawkins, who was born in Mercer Co., Ky., on the 30th day of January, 1834, was raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason while quite a young man, and affiliated with Leesville Lodge since October 17, 1891. Though Kentucky, his native state, refused to secede from the Union, he, like many other of her noble sons, took up arms in defense of the South's cause. He enlisted in General John Morgan's command in the early part of 1862, but on account of being wounded in April of the same year, was forced to retire from active service. Six years later he came to Texas, and after stopping in Guadalupe Co., a short time, permanently located in the western part of Gonzales County. In 1875 he was married to Miss Rosa Williams, of Guadalupe county, who still survives him. He united with the Methodist Church in 1886, and remained a devoted member until he passed away to that life beyond on the 21st of April, 1903. Brother Hawkins had been in bad health for several years, and had it not been for his careful and watchful wife, he might have passed away in the earlier years of his affliction.

Brethren, one by one our comrades are passing from us, and as we lay them to rest let us not forget that we, too, must soon pass that way.

Whereas the Great Architect has called our beloved brother to his last resting place, thereby causing sadness in our hearts and a vacancy in our lodge, therefore be it.

Resolved, that the removal of such a life from among our midst leaves a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members, and will prove a serious loss to our community.

Be it further resolved, that a certified copy of these resolutions be furnished the wife of our deceased brother, a copy sent to the Gonzales Inquirer for publication and a page of our proceedings dedicated to his memory.

Her married name is not recorded, but it is believed that she was recently widowed and had returned home with her children to Kentucky. Van B. Hawkins, age 36, head of the household, a farmer, Leinora (?), age 28, keeping house, Fanny, age 6, William, age 5, and Forest, age 1.*

*In the 1880 census for Hardinsville, Shelby County, Kentucky, Leonora Lanham and her two sons, William and Forrest, were listed as living in the household of her sister and brother-in-law, Ann Mary McGee and A. G. McGee. She was shown to be 40 years old, a widow and was suffering with cancer. Her oldest daughter, Fanny Lanham, age 17, was living in the household of Van B. Notes for ALBERT G. MCGEE:

(Note: Albert G. McGee of Jackson County, Virginia (now West Virginia) was not related to the John Simpson McGee family of Pennsylvania discussed in the earlier sections of this book.)

The 1860 census for Jackson City Post Office, Jackson County, Virginia lists ___ McGee, age 44, a farmer and head, a son, Albert, age 24, a son, Allen, age 21, a daughter, Ursula (?), age 15, and a son, Charles E., age 12.

The 1860 census for Leroy Post Office, Jackson County, Virginia also listed Ann M. Hiter, age 19, living in the household of Thomas Dawkins. Ann Hiter was from Kentucky and was in Virginia visiting her aunt, Florella (Hawkins) Dawkins. It was while she was staying in Jackson County that she met her future husband, A. G. McGee. They were probably married in Jackson County.

The 1870 census for the 1st District, Anderson County, Kentucky lists Alfred McGee, age 38, a farmer, his wife, Ann M., age 28, a daughter, Onie, age 8, a son, Chas., age 5, and a daughter, Mary, age 3. The family lived next door to Ann's uncle, Van Buren Hawkins.

The 1880 census for Hardinsville District, Shelby County, Kentucky lists A. G. McGee, age 44, a farmer and head of the household, b. in West Virginia, father and mother b. in Virginia, his wife, Ann Mary, age 38, keeping house, a son, Charles A., age 15, works on the farm, a daughter, Mollie N., age 12, a son, LeGrand, age 9, a daughter, Lou Nora, age 9, and a son, William Albert, age 6. Also living in the household was Leonora Lanham, age 40, a sister-in-law, a widow, with her son, Wm. H., age 16, and her son, Forest, age 11. According to the census report, Mrs. Lanham had been out of work for 12 months because of cancer. (Note: Leonora's oldest child, Fanny Lanham, age 17, a music teacher, was living in the household of her uncle, Van Hawkins, and his family in Anderson County, Kentucky.)

The 1900 census for Magisterial District No. 7, Precinct 49, Louisville, Jefferson County, Kentucky lists Albert McGee, age 65, born March 1835, head of the household, born in West Virginia, works as a day laborer, and his wife, Ann M., age 59, born in Kentucky. The couple had been married for 33 years, and five of their six children were still living.

The 1910 census for Clay District, Shelby County, Kentucky is very badly faded, and only partially legible. Sam R. Cardwell, possibly aged 50, head, a farmer, his wife, Nora, possibly aged 38, with two daughters and three sons in the household.

(Note: This particular page from the 1910 census record appeared so dark that it was almost impossible to read. The youngest son, Sam, was the only child listed whose name could be deciphered. Sam Cardwell, Sr.'s brother, George Cardwell, also lived in the household. There were two older adults, presumably Albert and Ann McGee, but their names could not be read. The older man presumed to be Albert McGee was possibly 74, married for 49 years, and was born in West Virginia. His wife was 70, mother of six children, five of whom were still living, and she was born in Kentucky.)

DEATH OF A. G. MCGEE (The Shelby Record, Shelbyville, Kentucky, Friday, November 4, 1910)

A. G. McGee, a well known farmer of this county, died Saturday at the home of his son-in-law, Samuel Cardwell, near Hempridge, of infirmities of age.

Mr. McGee was eighty six years old and formerly resided near Clay Village. He was a member of the Methodist Church and an honest upright citizen. Besides his wife, he leaves several grown children.

The funeral services were conducted Sunday morning at the Methodist Church at Clay Village by Rev. H. G. Turner of this city. At the close of the services the remains were brought to Shelbyville and interred in Grove Hill Cemetery.

(Note: There is some confusion as to A. G. McGee's actual given name. Most of the time he went only by the initials, "A. G." The 1860 and 1900 census refers to him as Albert, but the 1850 and 1870 census calls him Alfred. His youngest son was named William Albert McGee, and for this reason the author has elected to call him Albert McGee.)

Notes for JOHN J. BOND:

John Bond and Cordelia Hawkins were married in 1887 in Mercer County, Kentucky, and over the next several years they had five children together. Cordelia evidently died about 1898 because the 1900 census shows John Bond with five children and a second wife named Mabel. The census record also states that the couple had been married only one year. The youngest child, John C. Bond, was 3 years old, so it is believed that Cordelia died either in 1897 or 1898, probably in Mercer County and possibly in childbirth.

The 1900 census for Magisterial District No. 6, Harrodsburg City, Mercer County, Kentucky lists John J. Bond, age 38, head of the household, traveling grocery salesman, his wife, Mabel, age 33, a daughter, __, age 12, a son, Ira (?), age 11, a daughter, __, age 8, a son, Ben E., age 6, and a son, John C., age 3. Everyone b. in Ky. The couple had been married for one year, and had no natural children together. (Note: The census record is very difficult to read, and several of the names are illegible.)

John Bond moved his family from Mercer County, Kentucky to Tulsa, Oklahoma, where they are found in the 1910 census for Tulsa Township, Tulsa County as follows: J. J. C. Bond, age 48, head of the household, employed as a real estate agent, his wife, Mabel, age 43, keeper of a boarding house, a son, Ira, age 21, employed as an electrician, and a son, Ben E., age 17, employed as a delivery man for a meat market. (Note: The youngest son, John B. Bond, age 13, was found to be living with his grandparents, A. L. and Sarah Hawkins, who had also moved to Tulsa from Mercer County.)

The 1920 census for Los Angeles Township, Los Angeles County, California lists John J. Bond, age 57, a roomer, employed in a real estate office. [Note: John Bond's wife, Mabel Bond, was living in the household of her step-daughter, Irene Coleman, in Alameda, California.]

Children of CORDELIA HAWKINS and JOHN BOND are:

90. i. IRENE⁷ BOND, b. September 1887, Mercer County, Kentucky.
- ii. WILLIAM IRA BOND, b. November 1888, Mercer County, Kentucky; m. JOSEPHINE; b. abt. 1899, state of Georgia.

Notes for WILLIAM IRA BOND:

The 1920 census for 4th Precinct, Tulsa City, Tulsa County, Oklahoma lists William I. Bond, age 31, head of the household, b. in Kentucky, the owner of a clothing store, and his wife, Josephine, age 21, b. in Georgia.

91. iii. LORRAINE BOND, b. abt. 1892, Mercer County, Kentucky.
92. iv. BEN E. BOND, b. April 1894, Mercer County, Kentucky.
- v. JOHN C. BOND, b. December 1896, Mercer County, Kentucky.

Notes for JOHN C. BOND:

There is an individual named John Bond, age 23, listed in the 1920 census for the 4th Precinct, Tulsa City, Tulsa County, Oklahoma, who was single, a lodger, and employed as a clerk in the oil industry. However, he gives his birthplace as well as those of his parents as Oklahoma.

Notes for SAMUEL R. CARDWELL:

The 1900 census for Clayville District, Shelby County, Kentucky lists S. R. Cardwell, age 41, head of the household and a farmer, his wife, Nora, age 27, and a daughter, Thelma (?), age 2. Also living in the household were a brother, H. G. Cardwell, age 49, and a brother, George Cardwell, age 44. The couple had been married for four years and had only the one child.

The subject page from the 1910 census for Clay District, Shelby County, Kentucky is very badly faded and difficult to read. Sam R. Cardwell, possibly aged 50, a farmer, married for 13 years.

His wife's name is Nora, possibly aged 38, mother of five children, all still living. Two daughters and three sons, the youngest son is named Sam, but the rest are unreadable. There are two older adults in the household who are presumably Albert McGee and his wife, Ann, but their names are not legible. Albert (presumably) is possibly 74, married once for 49 years, and was born in West Virginia. Ann is 70, mother of six children, five of whom are still living, and was born in Kentucky.

LDS records that Sam Cardwell died in 1917. Nora Cardwell was shown as a widow in the 1920 Louisville, Jefferson County, Kentucky census. (See notes for Nora McGee)
